		The purpose of the foster care Safety Assessment, DHS –149, is to help assess first, whether a child(ren) is in immediate danger of physical harm, second, to help identify the source of that danger and finally to help determine if a protecting intervention is available to be maintained and/or initiated to provide appropriate protection. A protecting intervention, taken by staff or others, is one that remedies the immediate danger and enables longer-range services to be provided to the child(ren) while keeping the family intact.
	CFF 722-6	The Safety Assessment will also help Staff address Reasonable Efforts issues with the courts and families through consideration of specific safety factors and protecting interventions.....we will look at these in greater detail when we look at the actual Safety Assessment Form.

This could be the case where the perpetrator is not related to the children and is not married to the non-offending parent, or in other situations, the perpetrator could be a parent to the child, possibly married to the non-offending parent. An example would be a father who hit one of the children so hard that the child required medical attention and was subsequently removed from the home. The father could voluntarily leave the home while services are provided, so the child could be returned home with the mother. In any of these situations, you should establish a safety plan with the family to ensure that everyone understands what kind of contact is allowed, what to do if the perpetrator violates the parameters of the contact agreement/court order and what the consequences are if the non-offending parent allows contact without authorization 5. Creativity and “thinking outside the box” are encouraged in these situations. Many times this safety intervention could be used when a non-offending parent wants to protect his/her children from an abusive partner, but lacks the ability to do that where he/she is living. You should utilize domestic violence resources when this situation presents itself. But also remember that if the perpetrator is a legal parent to a child involved, court intervention may be necessary prior to any moves. You should not interfere with an existing court order that requires the non-offending parent to stay within a certain geographical area, or that requires the children to be present for parenting time with the offending parent. 6. Use of "other" should be limited to activities not covered in the preceding definitions. Worker must narrate clearly and specifically why this section applies to this case. Remember a Protecting Intervention is an action taken by staff or others that improves the unsafe condition identified in the assessment while short-term services are provided to the family. Protecting Interventions are the services that control the safety of the child. This should also tell you what effect the services you referred the family to had. That will give you a Reasonable Efforts assessment. In other words; were the efforts made on this case enough to reduce the barriers.

DHS 149 Section 2 #8	If the child would not be safe, and there are no interventions that could be placed in the home to make the child safe with services, then you will be checking number 8. Number 8 is simply that the placement out of home will continue, or that the courts will remove the children. This indicates that the children must remain or be placed out of the home. All of your protecting interventions need to be listed on the DHS 149. If you are going to begin a protecting intervention, list it. List any interventions that will begin in the future also. Describe how that intervention will keep the safety of the child intact. Will the explanation of the protective intervention's increasing safety for the child mean that the child can be returned home? Then the child is "safe with services". Don't forget that you will be doing a new safety assessment

For each example that indicates a “yes” ask if that was a current circumstance that safety was an immediate concern. Jimmy had bruising on his buttocks and back upper portion of his legs. CPS was called and did an investigation. The boys were then placed in foster care at the Ball foster home. As you are reviewing the case, you discover Sherri had previous CPS involvement. Sherri had a different LTP who had physically abused Kelly 2 years ago. Kelly had been removed from her mother's care then and did not return to her mother for over a year. Kelly has been adjusting to foster care fairly well. She has been visiting with her mother on a weekly basis. Sherri is always on time for visits and is very appropriate during visit time. She does show an interest in Kelly and what is happening with her at school and at the foster home. At the last visit, Sherri asked if she could take Kelly out to dinner for a future visit. As this request was being considered, the visit supervisor overheard Sherri tell Kelly that she was trying to get some time alone with her. She says she keeps hoping he will “grow up” and “stop being such a baby.” At the visits, Alan will immediately start crying and fussing upon seeing Jan. He is not consoled easily and generally spends half the visiting time in a state of upset. He will sometimes cry until he becomes physically ill. Jan will react to this crying by telling him he is a “little brat” and that she “can hardly stand the sight of” him. Following the visits, foster mom reports Alan will wake up often during the night crying and wanting to be held. There was animal feces all over the floor. Dirty dishes were piled in the sink. A dead raccoon was on the front porch of the trailer. Patty had no running water in the home and she had run out of fuel to heat the home. Sissy was outside in her underwear and CPS were only able to locate two pairs of pants and two shirts for Sissy. A partial gallon of milk in the refrigerator was spoiled. There were two cans of corn in the cupboard. The freezer was empty. Sissy was removed at that time and placed in foster care. Patty is attending most of her visits and does seem to be happy to see her child during this time. She has attended two parenting classes and has scheduled a psychological evaluation. She recently received an eviction notice for the trailer. The conditions at the trailer have improved only slightly. Patty still has little food in the home and the home is still not heated and has no running water. Patty has picked up some of the animal feces but there is still some in the home. Thank you for reading the scenario and can you tell us
